The screenshot shows the Microsoft Photosynth website. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for Home, Explore, About, My Photosynths, a search bar, and buttons for New Account, Sign In, and Create. A large banner features a close button (X), the URL <http://photosynth.net/>, the text "glide and zoom into the new Photosynth 3D", and a "preview it" button with a right arrow. Below the banner is a "Featured" section with four photo thumbnails:

Events and Outings

March 1,2 Saturday/Sunday Reelfoot Lake Eagles and Cypress Tree walk

When: March 1, starting between 8:00AM - 10:00AM

Where: Reelfoot Lake Visitor Center, Tiptonville, Tn off route 21/22

It takes about 4 hours to drive to the Reelfoot Visitor Center in Tiptonville, Tn. Brent and I are going up Friday night, and spend Saturday night there also. We plan to meet at the visitor center and pick up one of the tour buses that take visitors to various nest sites. Tours are $5.00 per person. These buses are old school buses, and can hold about 35 people. There will be others not in our group on these buses. Another option we are looking into is to reserve a smaller van that can hold up to 15 people. The ranger told me that if we could get about 15 people to attend, we would be able to dictate how long to stay at any given site. In order to take advantage of this, we need to have as many people as possible to commit to this trip as soon as possible. We can then attempt to reserve the smaller van (same $5.00 per person).

There are no chain hotel/motels close by. The nearest city with chain hotels is Union City, about 45 minutes from the visitors center. There are many small independent motels and resorts scattered around the lake; I am familiar with none of them. However, I am staying at the Cypress Point Resort, which is within a mile of the visitors center, and there is a full service restaurant nearby. Below, is a partial list of places to stay around the lake:
