14 DAYS IN THE GALAPAGOS

JULY SPEAKERS Trudy & Brent Wright

THE GALAPAGOS ISLANDS are from a different era in time. Being there is like being in a time capsule. Trudy and I were blessed to have spent fourteen days sailing and photographing this special place. We lived in a National Geographic special without having the National Geographic crew with us. We have experienced several incredible adventures, but only a couple have touched us in a way that changed us; the Galapagos was one of those such places. We are hoping to share the excitement of this adventure with the club members through our images and stories of this incredible experience.

Open Call for Digital Photography Submissions

Are you a Davidson County resident? Send the Frist Art Museum your digital photographs (up to two entries per person) that capture the theme of connection or disconnection in our communities, for a juried exhibition, Connect/Disconnect: Growth in the "It" City, that will take place in Spring 2019.

Connect/Disconnect: Growth in the "It" City is a community exhibition inspired by a 2017 Tennessean article about how Nashville has been growing at a rate of one hundred people per day. Connect/Disconnect will feature photographs by Davidson County residents of diverse ages and backgrounds, showing how the population boom has affected them and the lives of the people around them. The exhibition hopes to explore the rising connectivity between neighborhoods and communities, and the potential for disconnection between people and socioeconomic classes as the city strives to adapt to record growth. Its themes may include the new atmosphere of entrepreneurship and creativity, the impact of transit and housing on current and new residents, and the ongoing effects of recent and historical events.

Submissions will be accepted until 11:59pm Sunday, September 30, 2018.
