MEDICAL MISSION PHOTOGRAPHY

JULY SPEAKER

Shelly Rosenberg

ALLIANCE FOR SMILES sends medical teams to sites around the world to perform life-changing surgery free of charge for children whose families cannot afford the surgery. During a typical two-week mission, 70–100 children receive surgery for cleft lip and palate anomalies by a team of fifteen very dedicated medical volunteers, who are supported by five equally dedicated non-medical volunteers.

Last summer NPC member, Shelly Rosenberg, shown left, heard about the opportunity of serving as a medical mission photographer and was intrigued with taking part in such an undertaking. She served as the photographer on two Alliance for Smiles missions this year—the first in February when she went to Khulna, Bangladesh; the second in June when she went to Weining, China.

Join Shelly July 18th as she shares her experiences as a volunteer photographer in a medical setting. There will be ample opportunity to ask questions after her slideshow presentation about the trips.

Weining is a city in Guizhou, China. It took three flights to arrive in Guiyang where the team spent a night in a hotel before taking a four-and-a-half hour bus ride to Weining the next morning.

Khulna is the third-largest city in Bangladesh. The trip took 50 hours, five flights, and a bus ride before Shelly got to the hotel in Khulna.
